

LEADMINE WILDLIFE MANAGEMENT AREA

(Brimfield, Sturbridge)

SIZE: Two parcels totaling 640 acres of generally rough terrain and moderately sloped ridge and hilltop. This area is located on the border between the Connecticut Valley and Central Wildlife Districts.

VEGETATION: Mixed hardwood forest with some scattered hemlock and white pine.

WATER: This area is adjacent to Leadmine Pond, which is stocked with trout. There is rough, limited access to this pond.

WILDLIFE: Grouse, deer, bear, raccoon, gray squirrel, turkey, coyote, grouse and numerous nongame species. This area is not stocked with pheasant.

SPECIAL

REGULATIONS: None.